Planning for Sea Level Rise in the Matanzas Basin
Adaptive Capacity & Readiness
Results from Stakeholder Input and Workshops

Multiple public workshops included a variety of stakeholder groups. Polling and direct involvement reveal a sense of the capacity to adapt in the communities of the Mantanzas region.

- Awareness & beliefs that sea level rise is happening
- Scientific understanding
- Local knowledge
- Willing to consider a range of options
- Willing to work together
- High workshop attendance
- Diverse stakeholders involved: government, youth, business & development groups, & others

Knowledge

Openness to Change

Interest

Environmental Ethic

Diverse stakeholders including youth

High workshop attendance

Local effects: Mi Casa erosion

Conservation ethic evident in region

planningmatanzas.org